Loses Hens, Pigs As Barn Razed

Fire of unknown origin des-troyed the barn and driving shed on the farm of Alex. Doner at the corner of Yonge and Eagle Sts. early Friday morning. Ten hens and 16 pigs died in the flames which also consumed a quantity of grain and hay. Alex. Doner was awakened about 3:45 a.m. by the light of the flames coming through his bedroom window. He awakened the other occupants of the house, his wife and son, Percy, and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lewis and their children, Keith, Francis and Wayne, but it was too late to save the building. A calf, a sow and ten pigs were saved before

NEWMARKET, ONTARIO, THURSDAY, JULY 15TH, 1948

SINGLE COPIES 5 CENTS EACH

Fined for trespassing at Lake Wilcox, these youths who said they were members of the Junction Gang in Toronto were each fined $10 and costs along with 13 others at magistrate's court in Newmarket last Friday. They called themselves "protectors of law and justice". Above are Harry Sportun, 18, and John Stevenato, 17.

Plenty Of Police At Lakes, Reeve Evans

To prevent disturbances at Wilcox and Musselman's Lakes, the Whitechurch township council has made sure of plenty of police protection, according to Reeve Lorne Evans. He said that a township officer had been stationed at each lake and that arrangements have been made for assistance from county and provincial police. He said town-ship police were determined to stop rowdiness at the lakes.

Dead Hero Once Drove On Newmarket Route

John "Donnie" Donland, who died recently while attempting to save two men who also died of asphyxiation in a well they were repairing in Leaside, was a former Gray Coach Lines driver. Used as a spare, he often drove on the Newmarket route and was very well liked by his associates. He left Gray Coach to drive a school bus in the city and it is said that he was very popular among the school chil-dren.

Mr. Donlands descended the well when he heard two men in distress at the bottom, but gas fumes took the lives of all three.

Two Sent To Hospital When Auto Ditched

An accident near Queensville about 11 a.m. Sunday sent two people to York County hospital and caused an estimated damage of $400 to a car driven by Charles Dario, 57 Glengary Ave., Toronto.

According to Chief Constable Joe Jardine, Queensville, who investigated, Dario, with Mrs. Barbara Barbero, Detroit, was driving toward Lake Simcoe and when passing a car, apparently lost control of his own car. The Dario car went into the ditch and struck an abutment.

Teen-Agers Crowd Newmarket Court

Newmarket — The town hall was filled last Friday when the largest magistrate's court this year was held in an atmosphere of a steam bath. There were 137 cases listed on the court docket, 15 of which were for disorderly conduct at Wilcox Lake and 30 others for petty trespassing at Wilcox and Musselman's Lakes. Starting at 10 a.m., Magistrate Hollinrake did not make the final adjournment of court until after 6 o'clock.

According to youths who talked outside the courtroom, some of the teen-agers before the magistrate on charges laid at Wilcox Lake, were members of the Toronto "Junction Gang" who were to battle the Beanyery boys in a feud settlement at the lake.

There was no official mention in court of gang warfare, how-ever, and the crowd did not proceed with the more serious charges of disorderly conduct because there was no evidence that would discriminate the guilty ones from the others with minor offences. Most of the charges laid were for petty trespassing, some of the offend-ers having been found in a barn near Wilcox Lake belonging to Leonard Houghton. Others were fined for trespassing on the property of Shadow Lake Girls' camp where offenders were also caught in a barn. Fines for the trespassers were $10 and costs; practically all pleaded guilty.

Lions Playground Opens

Newmarket — Lions Park has been the scene of highly spirited activity for youngsters this week. Monday was the opening day for the supervised play-ground sponsored by the Lions club and this first day brought a large attendance of children to play volleyball, baseball and various supervised games. The initial registration numbered 450 children.

The supervisors, F. W. Hollingsworth, and Audrey Rowland, find that the children are very enthusiastic and they say it is difficult for two people to keep enough games going all the time. There seems to be no lag in activity from 1:30 to five o'clock during the supervised period. In the morning after 10 o'clock, one of the supervisors is there all anyone wishes a ball or baseball mitt. The youngsters will also be using the tennis courts. Quoits and boxing gloves have also been ordered.

"What we need is more equip-ment and prizes," said Mr. Hollingsworth, "and we would be glad of any donations from citizens." There are only two soft-balls in the supply of equipment. Old hockey sticks could be used for field hockey or donations of any kind for prizes would be appreciated and used to advantage. Such items could be taken to the field house under the band stand in the park any afternoon.

Each child gets a point for par-ticipating in games, and two points for being on the winning side. At the end of each week a girl or boy gets a prize for the highest number of points. At the end of the six weeks' period a larger prize is given. Every registered youngster has a number and at 4:30 every day, numbers are drawn for prizes. Friday is a special day for races and special games.

The playground will continue for another five weeks after this week. This annual supervised playground, now in its third year, is a Lions club project under the chairmanship of Stan Smith, and brings many other-wise idle youngsters into group activities during the summer holidays.

Buses, Cars Ditched On Jersey River Detour

The construction of the new bridge across the Jersey River at Riveredge, south of Keswick, has caused Lake Simcoe traffic a three-mile detour and it is reported that several cars travel-ing the detour have gone in the ditch. J. O. Hines, Gray Coach Lines inspector at New-market, said that buses also have gone off the edge of the road. The bridge, expected to have been completed by July 1, is still under construction.

Sunday Said Record For Simcoe Crowds

Sunday was the biggest day for crowds in 15 years in the Sutton district at Lake Simcoe, according to Mle Sedore, prop-rietor of a grocery and refresh-ment store at Willow Beach. Heavy automobile traffic brought in thousands of city people to the lakeside spots for relief from the heat.

Cyril Haffey, 40, Merton St., Toronto, almost severed his finger in a peculiar accident while rolling up a steel measuring tape. One end of the tape was under a truck which started up suddenly and caused the tape to catch on his ring finger. He was taken to York County hospital.

86 ATTEND CAMP

Eighty-six boys attended the North York Memorial camp, in-cluding 81 from Newmarket. The junior girls' camp is on now and a number have gone from Newmarket. The intermediate girls will leave from Trinity United church, Newmarket, on Wednesday, July 21.

Keswick—Mrs. Bert Chandler has a cactus plant which has three flowers on it, the first time there has been any indica-tion of bloom in eight years. She says the flowers are pink and about three inches long.

SUBSCRIPTION RATE UP 50 CENTS

The steady increase in production costs has left no alternative but to increase the subscription rate of The Newmarket Era and Express by 50 cents a year. This is in keeping with a similar increase made by other weekly newspapers of The Era and Express cir-culation class.

The increase is effective August 1. All subscribers, regardless of when their current subscriptions expire, have until August 1 to renew at the $2 rate for one year, $3 for two years.

After August 1, the rate will be $2.50 yearly, $4 for two years — in the U.S.A. $3 yearly, $5 for two years.

The price per copy of 5 cents remains the same.

Early Start Seen On Housing

Newmarket—Negotiations have been completed for the construction of 50 low rental houses for Newmar-ket by the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation and construction will start immediately at the Eagle St. property according to a statement issued by Mayor Jos. Vale this morning.

The mayor said, "I am pleased to announce that I have been informed that the construction of 50 houses on the property which the town has acquired from the County of York on the south side of Eagle St. will be started immediately by the Carter Construction Company of Toronto.

"This is the result of months of negotiating on the part of the officials of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation with contractors and also on the part of the town. The project was first initiated last fall but owing to the very high costs of con-struction, we were not able to arrive at anything definite be-fore this. It is only, as a matter of fact, to the great interest and complete co-operation of the officials of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, and in particular to A. J. Smith, their chief engineer at Toronto, that we are now assured that the houses will be erected in New-market."

"These houses will be erected by the Corporation and rented by them, not by the town, and the cost of construction will be borne by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation.

"We are hopeful that a great many houses will be available for occupation before winter sets in and when completed, this housing subdivision on Eagle St. will be a wonderful credit to the town," said Mr. Vale.

The mayor added that this is one more instance of the phe-nomenal growth of Newmarket. He said he had no figures or particulars about the cost of building the houses.

Urge Game Preserve Near Vandorf

An area of approximately 1,000 acres in the vicinity of Vandorf may shortly become a Crown game reserve, if the request of the twp. council of Whitechurch is acted on by the department of game and fisheries.

At a recent meeting of the sporting element in the munic-ipality the matter of preserving the game in the twp. was under discussion and Fred van Nost-rand submitted a resolution which carried the meeting and which was sent on to the twp. council to act on.

Deputy Reeve Ed Logan and Counsellors Fred Timbers and Ivan McLaughlin as well as Reeve Evans had nothing to of-fer in opposition to the sugges-tion, and approved of the game reserve idea. The boundaries will be determined at a later date. The Vivian forest area is now passing under the game pre-serve law and some suggestion was made that the new area should be linked with the forest. However, it was felt that the de-partment would make some sug-gestion in this matter. If a game reserve is established, only or-ganized hunts are permitted, it was stated.

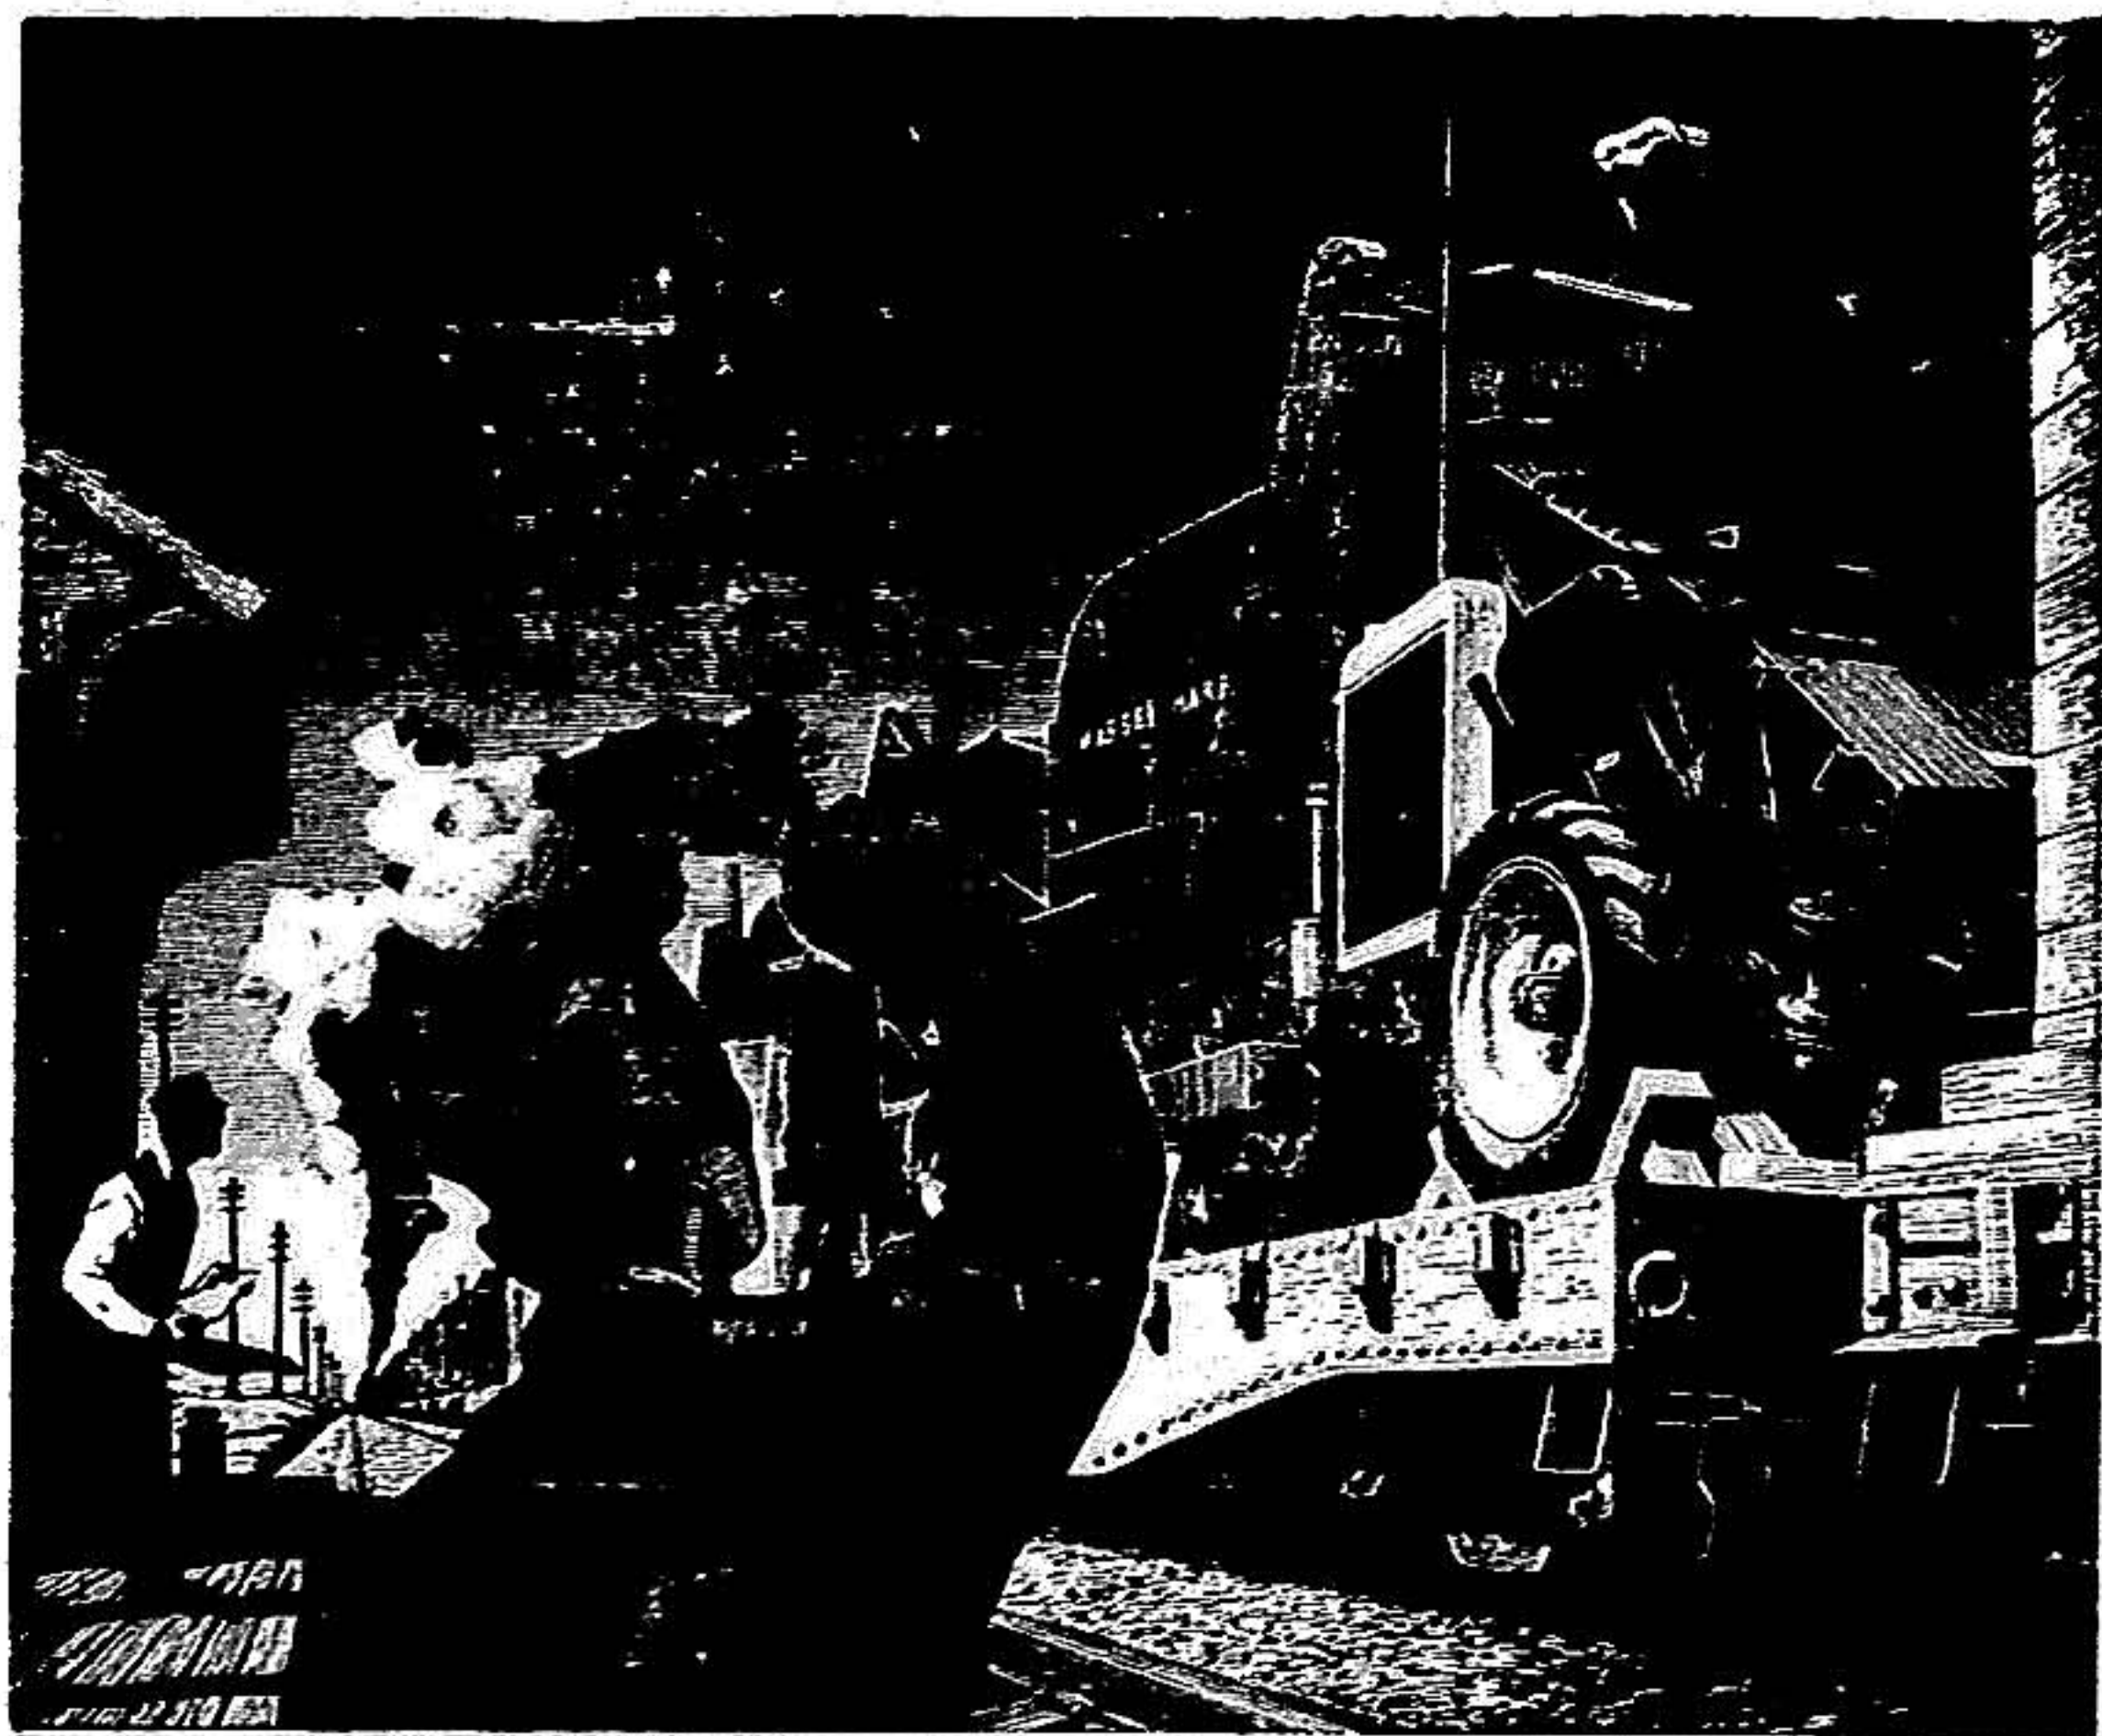

Council re-appointed the game wardens for 1948 as follows: Geo. I. Smith, Gormley; R. B. Lang-ley, Gormley; Harold Dewbury, Gormley; Percy Patterson, Stouffville; Ernest Davis, Stouffville; A. B. Bartholomew, Stouffville; Wilfred Lundy, Aurora; Parker Smith, Aurora; George Hunt, Newmarket; Leslie Preaton, Newmarket; Reuben Ireland, Newmarket; Herbert Pegg, Stouffville; Delmer Pegg, Stouffville; J. H. Wildfield, Newmar-ket.

Name Harold Sanderson Legion Zone Secretary

Newmarket—Harold Sanderson has been elected secretary of Zone E-2, Canadian Legion, suc-ceeding T. A. M. Hulse, Aurora, who has resigned because of pressure of business. Legion branches throughout the area will shortly have their own monthly bulletin, which will keep all members fully informed as to branch, zone, district and command activities. Dr. C. E. VanderVoort will be the editor of the publication for the first year, and branches will supply him regularly with information. There are over 800 paid-up Legion members in the imme-diate area, and the supplying of a zone bulletin is believed to be the first such attempt in the Ontario Command.

Queensville's Big Day Set For August 14

Queensville joins the growing list of North York municipalities that have set aside a special day in the year for a sports day. On Saturday, Aug. 14, the first an-nual Sports Day at Queensville Park will feature sports events, including a men's softball tourna-ment, games, races, midway, bingo, horse shoe pitching and a concert and stage show. Sports Day president is Rex Smith, secretary treasurer, Terry Doane, and with these men, Queensville is looking forward to a big day with plenty of crowds from out of town.

Modern Harvesters' Excursion to Help Canadian Farmers

A New Era in Harvesting Started by Massey-Harris Combines

Trainloads of Massey-Harris combines rolling across the country to the grain farming areas are a common sight nowadays. They have replaced the once familiar annual harvesters' excursions which brought thousands of harvest hands to the prairies.

Modern mechanical harvesters like the Massey-Harris self-propelled combines, have brought many advantages to grain growers. With them, crops can be harvested with the minimum of manual labor, a great money-saving feature when, in times like these, experienced farm help is in short supply and wage rates are high.

Massey-Harris self-propelled combines speed up harvesting—one man can cut and thresh 50 acres and upwards in a day. Operating costs are low too with a self-propelled—one motor supplies power to propel and operate the machine. There is no expense for twine or stooking. And the combine has done away with the work, worry and expense of threshing time.

The demand for combines indicates the trend towards modern mechanical harvesting. From factories with capacity increased greatly, more and more Massey-Harris combines are being built to help Canadian farmers harvest their crops easier, quicker and at less cost.

Garden Tips

2,4-D or (2,4-dichlorophenoxyacetic acid) is a very powerful plant growth stimulant. In mild applications, cell growth is stimulated to continue in active growth after the normal time for maturity or harvest. In heavier applications cell growth may be distorted into fantastic shapes and with still heavier applications many varieties of plants slowly die due to over stimulation of cell activity. Some species of plants are more resistant to 2,4-D than others, hence 2,4-D may be used as a selected weed spray on several of our crops. For other susceptible crops, it can be used as a spray with certain modifications.

There are many different formulations of 2,4-D available but little difference has been found in results when applied at comparable rates. The acid itself is insoluble in water so has to be prepared in a soluble form for use. Sodium and ammonium salts are dry powders readily dissolved in water and easy to prepare. The esters are prepared in oil solutions which readily mix with water. All forms of 2,4-D preparations have directions for use as weed sprays. One should follow the directions found on the package, when making up the spray solution. The usual or standard rate of application is from one to one and one-half pounds of actual 2,4-D acid per acre.

Other advantages of 2,4-D sprays are that they are non-poisonous, noncorrosive and non-inflammable.

The small gardener will find the greatest use of 2,4-D spray on lawns and driveways. As most grasses are quite resistant to the effect of 2,4-D fairly heavy applications may be made to lawns, which do not have white clover. If white clover is present, lighter applications must be made to avoid injury. For dandelions and other heavy broad-leaved weeds, the application should be made early, just before coming into bloom, when the plant is in an active state of growth. Repeated applications may be made without injury to the grass, if necessary. When many weeds are present, a program of lawn fertilization and seeding should be followed along with weed spraying.

2,4-D is also useful as a weed spray on old strawberry plants and on raspberry rows. It has little or no effect on grass growing in these crops. On young strawberries there is likely to be some injury. Much lighter concentrations should be used here and no 2,4-D spray should be applied during the blossom period as deformed berries and stems would likely occur.

One other crop, where it is a good help, is asparagus. During the cutting season the young weeds may be killed while the asparagus continues to grow. After the cutting season 2,4-D sprayed on the soil at the base of the stalks will hold most weeds in check.

Corn is fairly tolerant to the 2,4-D so weeds may be controlled here, if care is used to avoid too much spray lodging in the corn plants.

2,4-D is also much used as a pre-emergence spray to control weeds in seeded crops, such as onions, beets, etc. The soil is prepared and seed sown in the usual manner, then sprayed on the soil surface. Just as the seeds begin to sprout is probably the best time to apply a pre-emergence spray. The soil should be left undisturbed as long as weeds are not troublesome.

Certain precautions should be observed in the use of 2,4-D sprays. It is best to apply only on quiet days as injury may result to some shrubs and vegetables if the spray comes in contact with them. A further precaution is to thoroughly wash the sprayer out with a solution of household ammonia and water before it is used for other sprays.

FARM BULLETIN

FARM IMPROVEMENT LOANS

There are times when every farmer sees definite need for improvements. If he is young and ambitious, he wants implements, machinery and equipment to speed his work. As he grows older he thinks in terms of conserving his strength and increasing his personal comfort. Always he wants security.

The farmer specializing in livestock thinks about herd improvement, freedom from disease, greater production. The poultryman knows how science can help him. Others want to improve soil, seed, fences, water supply, drainage.

Those without electric light naturally want a farm electric system. And wives desire modern conveniences.

Farm Improvement Loans will provide this money on the most desirable terms. These loans can be made in amounts up to $3,000 to responsible farmers, with ample time for repayment.

The manager of our nearest branch can give you complete information about Farm Improvement Loans. He is genuinely anxious to see you make the kind of progress which will increase your earnings and add to your security.

Teen-Agers Jam Courtroom

There was a capacity audience at the magistrate's court in the market hall Friday as some 70 teen-aged boys and girls faced charges of trespassing following raids by the police at Lake Wilcox and Musselman's Lake last weekend. The court room was like a steam bath. First coats were shed and ties loosened and as the hearings wore on, shirts were opened until as the final accused were called, there was a pause before their appearance at the dock while they got their clothes together. Only the magistrate, apparently unmoved by the heat, remained in full dress as the court room took on the appearance of a summer resort concert audience.

Pretty Well of a Pattern

The accused were pretty well all of a pattern with their crew cuts, their draped shirts, peg-top pants and thick-soled brogues. Their attitude at first was not unmixed with fear of the consequences but as the precedent for dealing with their cases was established, they pleaded guilty and lined up to pay their fine of $10 and costs with growing nonchalance. It is doubtful whether, with their gum chewing and their plays to the gallery of their friends, they had any sense of being in a court of justice.

Magistrate Hollinrake sensed this and halted proceedings to warn them that they could have been liable to charges of breaking and entering with a somewhat stiffer penalty since the barns and outbuildings where they had been sleeping were locked and the doors must have been forced before they could gain entry. It seemed to make little difference to them.

From Good Homes

Although there were among them those who might have made excellent candidates for the more notorious "Beanery Gang", the majority of the accused appeared to have come from good homes. In one respect their offenses against the law were not serious and had they been limited in numbers, would scarcely have drawn more than passing attention. It was the size of their numbers, with its indication of a condition which might easily have developed into a deadly menace to peace and propriety that the city papers made of it, that arouses comment.

One spectator, who has had something to do with them, claims they are nothing more than high spirited kids who, lacking the benefits of other recreation and supervision, began spending weekends at the resorts until driven by habit, their expeditions reached the extreme which landed them in court. Undoubtedly, there is something in what he says but it is hardly an excuse. The age these youngsters had reached implies a certain amount of self reliance and responsibility, an ability to make use of their days without spending them on the prowl about the lakes.

GLENVILLE POND A BOON IN THIS WEATHER

The sticky weather of late has been made endurable for us by Glenville pond which offers a deep-water dip five minutes from town. Lake Simcoe has become so crowded that roadside bathing spots are becoming scarce, and there is always the difficulty of accommodation while changing into swimming dress. Glenville has none of these disadvantages. You can change at home, dive in from the roadside, and be back in time for supper with no trouble at all.

Glenville has another advantage which Simcoe cannot offer. The waters of the lake are of a generally uniform temperature.

They are either too cold, cold, moderate, or warm. At Glenville, it is possible to regulate your bath. On the surface, it is warm, a few inches under, cool, and as you go deeper, the temperature drops to the degree where it numbs your toes. You can enjoy your choice of temperature by swimming at the depth you find it.

Not Very Crowded

The pond is not very crowded as a rule because, we suppose, of its depth. However, the natural beauty of that district might be expected to attract large numbers of scenery-viewers. The country north of the Schomberg road offers all varieties of scenic attractions with its height at the Mulock Gap and at the edge of the slope at the marsh to the north. It is a lovely drive along the first concession west of Yonge St., past C. A. Catthers' farm and the Glenville Farms. The road is hilly and the country side is fairly wild in stretches. Not long ago, we sighted a pair of deer from the road, apparently fairly tame for they stood and stared at the car for five minutes or so before amblying out of sight. Others have remarked on deer through that area and it seems they are quite common.

Littering the Roadsides

With a little roadwork and renovation, King township should be able to capitalize on the beauty of the district by attracting tourists but such is the temper of today's traveller, that it would be just as well to leave the roads as they are—a discouragement to heavy use. It would be a shame to spoil those areas with tourists' litter, tin cans, and rubbish.

At that, such criticism cannot be limited to tourists for truck loads of tin cans from Aurora and Newmarket have been dumped in wholesale lots along the Mulock sideroad at the Gap. The "Dumping Prohibited" signs on many properties in that area seem to be regarded as playful gestures by the owners and are ignored in the same spirit of fun.

A Leader Yes, But Policy Too

The Liberal convention next month in Ottawa promises plenty of excitement. Harry Davis will throw a picket line of striking Canadian Seamen about the hall, he says, and argue the union's case before the delegates if he can. And there are lots of others who also plan to use the convention as a sounding board. They will be given short shrift. The choice of a successor to Mr. King is sufficiently engrossing to exclude all other considerations.

The two pre-convention favorites are the Hon. Louis St. Laurent and Hon. James Gardiner, ministers of external affairs and agriculture respectively. The former can be sure of the Quebec delegates, the latter of the west, but neither has much to recommend him to Ontario delegates who hold the balance power. There is a strong possibility of a dark horse third candidate as a compromise.

Charting a convention in advance is risky business. Politicians, like horses, don't always run to the form charts. But there is no uncertainty about the need for the convention to go on record with a clear and forceful exposition of policy. The party has been laying down its policy day to day in the House of Commons where it has been consistent only in its inconsistency.

The Liberal party owes much of its strength to its adaptability. It can include within its ranks without appearance of contradiction the rugged individualist of the right and the Utopia-planners of the left. Too often, however, that adaptability is used to excuse inaction; the party has compromised on some issues so much that no matter what decision it makes, it offends some faction within its ranks. So it makes no decision. Vacillation has no place in politics today.

The people want to know where the party stands on present day issues. Particularly to what extent is paternalism to become Liberal policy.

Place The Blame Where It Belongs

The youths in court on Friday, according to their story, were members of the "Junction Gang", gathered at Lake Wilcox to do battle with the "Beanery Gang". They were arrested by police in wholesale lots and charged with trespassing and the battle never came off. At their court appearance, some of them assumed an air of injured dignity. They were, they said, engaged on a mission of retaliation, one completely justified by the actions of the Beanery Gang which was charged with forays into the Junction Gang territory.

Gang rivalry among the kids is not uncommon, but the extent to which it has apparently grown in Toronto is. There is something uncommon, too, in the warped reasoning which justifies the challenge, choice of battleground and weapons, the utter disregard of the law, in the development of these feuds. Presumably, the participants have reached an age where they should possess some discretion, some recognition of their obligations towards society, but their actions do not indicate it.

Before criticizing them, however, the indictment should be read to those who are primarily at fault, the parents, and more generally, the society in which such gangs can reach the stage of development that these have. Children are a reasonably accurate reflection of their environment. One father, paying his son's fine, told the court he "would take over from there". It would have been much better had he and the other parents taken over before the climax that brought their children before court.

Door-To-Door Mail Delivery

The request of the town of Newmarket for a mail delivery has the advantage of the precedent set by the Canadian Legion. That organization last year urged door-to-door mail delivery for centres of Newmarket's population as a means to provide employment for veterans. Certainly, in Newmarket at least, the request is justified. The growth of the town, geographically and in population, has outplaced the present system of a central post office.

The necessity of travelling from the east end of Gorham St., Davis Dr., or from the Bowser sub-division to pick up the mail is hardly compatible with standards of public service. The line-up at the post office at noon or 5 p.m. is an inconvenience that shouldn't have to be tolerated. The shortage of individual post office boxes does not help the situation. It is not the fault of the post office staff, but of a central post office in a fast growing community.

It is ironic that rural delivery places mail daily in boxes miles from the post office, where it can be collected by a walk a good deal less than that taken by the average citizen in Newmarket.

Rachel Haight's Recollections

This is one of a series of excerpts from the "Recollections" of Rachel Webb Haight, mother of Charles Haight, Toronto, and descendant of the Hughes family who settled where Aurora is now.

SCHOOL ORGANIZATION

There were no school organizations, no school sections. Parents would send their children where they chose. The remuneration of the teachers was by the pupil. A male teacher received two dollars per term of 12 weeks and a female one dollar, for each pupil, so the reader will conclude the teacher's salary depended entirely on the number in attendance. Our books were few. The Mavor spelling book was the first required, commencing with the alphabet, the words of three letters, then four letters, then words of two syllables and through the book. Then the New Testament was used. Next the Introduction to the English Reader — from that to the English Reader. When master of those books we were considered quite scholarly. In arithmetic, if we conquered the rule of three we had a fair knowledge of that branch, and to be a good penman was much more of an accomplishment than it is now. And in spelling there was much rivalry.

In the winter season there was enjoyment in attending spelling schools held in different school houses, pupils often going several miles to attend them. Probably those evenings were, with many, more a pretext for a good time than the real benefit they expected to derive. Yet they were considered profitable to those desirous to be benefited; and sometimes numbers of the parents attended and occasionally took part, but their opportunities, as a rule, had been too limited to warrant them in doing so. There were so-called trustees in charge of each school house who had the power to employ, or if not satisfactory, to dismiss a teacher, and a teacher could at his option resign his position. I think about 1843 or '4 interest became somewhat aroused to the propriety of a different system, and the first move was to appoint commissioners to whom intending teachers were to present themselves for examination of their qualifications. I think there was one in each township. As the school where I taught was a union school I was required to get a certificate from John Watson, King, and Dr. Hunter, Sr., Whitechurch. The ordeal was somewhat embarrassing to one of my temperament but did not prove very severe; perhaps the standing of my parents might have had some influence. However, we will take advantage of that supposition. How few who were my pupils can now be counted with the living, and the parents have all passed away; and there are just a few of my old schoolmates in mutability. The dividing of the country into school sections was soon adopted with regularly appointed trustees, three in number, for each school, deciding that one should withdraw each year and another be elected in his place. There was a public school inspector pointed who had charge of a large territory and received salary for his services, he required to make two visits each school in a year and make notes of the condition of the same. But if I were called upon to write of the changes in the only of life as pertaining to secular affairs, there is as to be said as I have on education, verbose as I have been.

Cat Nips

BY GINGER

Last week, after a hot day at the office, I sat listening to the frogs croak alongside the pond. I was windward so there was none of the gas, common to Fairley Lake, coming in my direction.

Everything was quiet except the frogs when all of a sudden, up from the pond came a musty old muskrat chewing on the stem of a lily pad and looking like a used barber shop door mat. "Evening Gus," he said, "I'm Hamphat the Muskrat and I'm the last survivor of the littles in this here pond, or should I say this pond which is most of the time. I mean you know what I mean, that is—most of the time it's a pond, but not all the time. Hmhm Gus?"

An eccentric, I thought to myself. Hamphat the Muskrat sat on the bank of Fairley Lake and told me of the struggle of dignified flora and fauna and all the little people of the pond against the dreadful forces of civilization in the last few years.

Ravaged by floods, industry, mud and dam outlets, the population had decreased at an alarming rate until Hamphat became the last of the more prominent citizens of Fairley Lake last year. He was elected mayor of the lake in the last election which was seven years ago and has been mayor ever since because there was no one left to vote. The only ones left were the fish and they hadn't been given a franchise yet.

"We are a ghost community," he said.

I felt sorry for Hamphat and could well understand his eccentricity.

Released the Gate

"Why a week or so ago, they

"A cat may look at a king," said Alice. "I've read that in some book but I don't remember where."—Lewis Carroll.

released the dam gate and all of the water, what's left of it, went out of this place and the fish found themselves livin' in Lake Simcoe where they are snubbed and called foreigners," Hamphat continued. "Now I tell you, what can we do with humans changing the environment like that? I'm sure Darwin would have something to say if he were still alive," he said.

It seems that Hamphat had a hole in the bottom of the lake where he lived and when he came out on the morning of the dam release, instead of being on the lake bottom, he was on the side of a hill and at the bottom of it there was nothing left but a sick looking creek going through the hole in the dam.

"Dried right out of my house," he said. "Since I was no longer living under water, I threw away my ball point pen."

The muskrat heaved a mighty sigh and slid back down the mud bank. At the bottom he paused and turned. "The species have reached the lowest possible ebb yet," he mourned in a disgusted drawl as he kicked a sly looking old bull frog off a lily pad. "Well, keep yer shirt tail tucked in, George," he said and disappeared in the inky waters of Fairley Lake.

This was the remnants of our wild animal society. Now that's just what human community living or urbanization, whatever you call it, is doing to our wild life. I tell you, civilization just hasn't got any foresight.

By the way, this columnist is looking for a nice apartment for two (that is, a place to live in). If anybody's got one to rent, write or phone Ginger's Accommodation Department, care of The Era and Express.

MAGISTRATE'S COURT

$300 Fine On Charge Of Liquor Possession

Newmarket — A long list of names with offences, most of them petty trespassing committed near Wilcox Lake, took up most of the time during the day-long session at magistrate's court on Friday.

Robert Johnson, Toronto, was fined $50 and costs for failing to remain at, or return to the scene of an accident on Yonge St. north of the Eagle St. stop light on July 20. William G. Cock, Toronto, testified that as he was driving south at 3 a.m., a car approached from the south and swerved into him, hitting the front of his car on the left. Constable J. Paquette of the provincial police said he caught up with the accused after day-break south of Aurora, after learning of the accident, and found damage to the left front wheel of the car. Johnson said he borrowed the car which, he said, had something wrong with the steering mechanism. He said that he did not stop for 1,000 feet after the mishap and, not seeing a car behind, remained where he stopped until daybreak.

Philip Bond, operator of Bill's Inn, a refreshment booth at Wilcox Lake, was taken into custody after Magistrate Hollinrake imposed a fine of $300 and costs or jail for having over a dozen bottles of liquor and a quantity of beer on the premises. The magistrate declared the property a public place. Constable Meyers laid the charge.

Two 16-year-old Toronto youths appeared in court with ten charges laid against them of breaking and entering and stealing various articles including two boats from cottages in the area of Elmhurst Beach. Both pleaded guilty to all charges which were laid by Constables William Hill and Carl Morton. The value of the stolen goods was estimated at $150. Magistrate Hollinrake gave both youths a suspended sentence.

The magistrate dismissed one summons for exceeding the speed limit at Eagle St. He said that after receiving complaints from holders of summonses, he drove over the road himself. He said it was difficult to slow down from 50 to 30 m.p.h. coming over the hill where the speed limit sign is first seen. He said, however, that the tendency of motorists of not slowing down over the hill must be checked because there are a lot of children around the street.

Mrs. Winnifred Galigue, Willow Beach, charged with assault against Austin Thayer, Willow Beach, her landlord, was not convicted. Thayer said that the accused struck him with a paddle but the magistrate said there was too much conflict in the testimony.

Where the Light for ever shineth, Where no storm ariseth more, There the Savior meets His loved ones, On the shore. Sadly missed, and lovingly remembered by his wife Beth. Holstock. c1w24

Lee—in loving memory of our dear daughter, Olive, who passed away July 16, 1917. We seem to see in the soft dim light. A face we loved the best; We think of her when the sun's last rays Go down in the far off west. We miss her no less as the time passes on. For absence can never close our hearts; And the lamp of our love is still glowing; Her heart the truest in all the wide world; Her love the best to recall; For no one on earth could take her place. She is still the dearest of all. God knew that she was suffering That the hills were hard to climb So He closed her weary eyelids And whispered "Peace be thine." Away in the beautiful hills of God. By the valley of rest so fair Some time, some day, we know Not when, but where we will meet our loved one there. Sadly missed by mother and father. c1w24

J. D. MOORE WEDS PETERBORO GIRL

Last Friday in Peterboro, a well known young man in farm circles, James D. Moore, former assistant representative for York County, was married to Dorothy Clark of that district, the wedding was solemnized at Gilmour Memorial Baptist church.

Many local residents will recall this young man for his excellent work particularly with the junior farmers and club boys. His personality and type have long been commended by everyone with whom he has worked. Following his two years service in this county, Mr. Moore was transferred to Brant where he was agricultural representative for another two and one half years.

The former Miss Clark is a lifelong friend of the Moore family and since her graduation from normal school has been teaching in Toronto. Later Mr. Moore has accepted a position with the Canadian Council on Boys' and Girls' club work and the couple will reside in Ottawa.

in INDUSTRY: Canadian railways for example, are using more and more aluminum in freight cars and passenger coaches.

in the HOME: too, more and more articles are being made of aluminum — washing machine tubs, for instance.

The reasons? There are many! Aluminum is light, strong, easy to keep clean. It is durable, cannot rust. It is economical because, through research and large-scale production, the price has been reduced 25% since 1939.

Today more than 1000 Canadian companies are fashioning aluminum into countless useful and beautiful shapes — as varied as buses and aircraft, garden tools and vacuum cleaners.

Tomorrow its advantages will be adapted to make still other articles which are lighter and more attractive. Next time you go shopping, notice how many things are made of aluminum.

"FOREIGN EXCHANGE"

The aluminum produced in Canada last year found its way to 48 other countries, the largest buyers abroad being the United Kingdom and the United States. Our production was so great that, after Canadian manufacturers had been supplied, we still had 85% left for export — a valuable source of foreign exchange.

PRESENTATIONS

I can remember, and I suspect many of you can too, when presentations were rather solemn affairs—a salute to the departing—an occasion which usually left givers and receivers in a speechless condition.

The recipients at a presentation were the most to be pitied. There they stood with every eye glued to them, their faces white or scarlet, according to disposition, and stern with determination neither to weep nor to faint, nor to giggle hysterically.

Then and now, the one who reads the presentation, has the easier time. He or she is not facing a large and interested audience. They do not have to cast wildly about in a mind from which coherent thought seems to have fled for something suitable to say. Instead, their duty done, they can roll up the address, present it to the recipients and retire gracefully.

I have tried to remember what I said — if anything — when at the age of nine, the occasion being our moving away from a town where I had lived most of my short life my school mates presented me with a silver mug and my dearest friend gave me its mate. These added to the one I received at my christening — when, needless to say, I wasn't requested to make a speech — hang yet in my china cupboard. But to return to my muttons, did I, when presented with the two cups, stand with my mouth open, like a fish out of water, or mumble "thank you," grab the cups, rush home to mother, deposit them on her lap and say, "Look what I've got!" If I did I can hear her calm voice say, "I hope you thanked them nicely," of which I have grave doubts.

But nowadays, all is different; people from their youth are trained to speak in public and even when caught unawares, can find something to say.

I thought of this the other evening when at Bogartown school we had an ice cream social which transformed itself into a presentation to Mr. and Mrs. Clare Penrose. About 80 grown-ups plus a fine collection of small boys and girls and babies, filled the school house, and enjoyed ice cream and cake after which we came to the presentation of a beautiful china cabinet to the newlyweds. Mr. S. Legge, the Bogartown Club president, said a few pleasant words of welcome to the young folk, now seated in seats of honor, beside him, and then called on Mr. E. Starr for an additional word of humorous advice. Then Rev. M. E. R. Boudreau of Newmarket was called on and gave a little talk on the partnership which would make these young people's home a place where the joy of mutual understanding and determination to live according to God's holy ordinance would reign supreme.

A touch of humor—which we are told makes the whole world turn, added point to a little talk which both the newlyweds and those older in matrimony will long remember.

Stuart Starr read the presentation address to which both Clare and Corolla responded suitably, and after singing the club song, "The more we get together," and "God Save the King," we separated to our several homes, glad that another home was added to our community and wishing the makers of it every good thing they might need to make their lives happy and successful.

Among the guests present were Mrs. MacDonald and Mrs. Boudreau.

Orangeville Too Strong For Boxla Boys

By GEORGE HASKETT JR.
Our box lacrosse buddies were at it again Monday night in Orangeville coming home on the short end 13-3. Our forces are still seeking their initial win after ten attempts. Bill Heffner, Newmarket's leading scorer, scored two of the three markers, Harold Gwyn earning an assist on the first. Bob Stevenson hit the rigging for the third with a bullet drive from well out. For Orangeville Ralph Gillespie led the marksmen with a five-goal display.

Orangeville led 3-1 at the quarter and boosted it up to 7-1 at the half. Newmarket rallied for two quickies to start the third but wilted under pressure. Orangeville made 12-3 at the three-quarter mark. The home squad added a final in the closing chapter. The game was cleanly played with only five penalties being given by Referee Eddie Walsh, three going to Newmarket.

Ladies Drop 4-3 Toughie At Midland

By GEORGE HASKETT JR.

If they gave points for being close there isn't a bit of doubt Newmarket Ladies could step up and take a king size helping for their work at Midland last Friday. They lost 4-3 but it was anybody's game until the final out was recorded. The loss came about through two costly errors. With three on and two out in the fourth, Edith Dow muffed a pop fly (cheer up I've seen them all do it). Then a wild toss to first gave Midland two runs. It proved enough—as the game rolled along—to win it. Before this the VanZant-Courtney crew were in the driver's seat leading 3-2. Our girls couldn't break through for the equalizer as Muriel Rawn pitched steady ball.

Newmarket's first run started to materialize in the third when Mary Ellen McNis, with two out, beat out a hit. Marg. Arnold followed with a bingle, the first of three she collected, and Mary Ellen registered when Edna McGrath was safe on an infield roller. Our girls continued their run making in the fourth, Lois Blight and Mary Osborne cracking out successive singles, and both advanced a station on a passed ball and showed on the score sheet on a Midland error.

Short-stopper Lois Blight, "The best ball player in the Blight family," led the VanZant-Courtney squad with two timely hits as well as making several nice infield stops. Marg. Arnold, back at the initial sack, had a three for four hitting attack. Mary Ellen McNis continued her good work in the outfield and punched out two hits. Mary Osborne grabbed onto three hot drives, and hit the record book with a hit and was robbed by two fine catches by the Midlanders. In the absence of Phil Osborne, or should we say Phil McNis, Lois Manning moved into the lead-off spot. Edith Dow served up the assortment for the Courtney crew with Betty VanZant taking over the mound chores in the fifth to pitch good ball and keep Midland away from scoring.

SUSPEND RICH. HILL

Richmond Hill midget and bantam O.B.A. entries have been suspended from further competition and are out for the season, it is announced by group convenor Leonard Simmons. The Hill youngsters failed to keep their playing obligations, and in most cases failed to notify the home teams concerned that they would not be appearing. Markham will thus have a clear road to the O.B.A. bantam series, and Stouffville and Newmarket will clash for the midget honors. Markham, Aurora and Stouffville represent the district in juvenile, junior and intermediate playdowns.

Simcoe Race Tight Keswick Has Edge

By GEO. HASKETT JR.

Half the schedule, in the Lake Simcoe loop, is now on the record books but it's far from being settled who's going to earn those play-off berths. Mount Albert, Keswick and Hope look like strong possibilities but anything can happen. Keswick is a shade in front of Mount Albert for the league lead, Hope is in third slot, followed by Zephyr, Pine Orchard and Vandonr. Queensville and Brownhill bring up the rear.

Friday, in "a best game," Longford Pegg's "all-stars," pardon us, Hope, struck a snag in their march to catch Murray Roberts and his flying Mount Albert nine. The snag was that hard hitting Keswick side. Hope was off to a running start to lead 7-0. Harold Smith, performing the mound duties for Keswick, then settled down to hold the Hoppers to a single run over the rest of the route. Meanwhile Keswick got busy with their bats to count five as the game went into the seventh. Now here's the pay-off: Don. Glover, tolling for Hope, knocked off the first

KETTLEBY

A meeting will be held in Christ Church Parish Hall, Kettleby, on Friday, July 16th at 8 p.m. sharp. D.S.T. The speaker will be Mr. J. C. Sproule of Toronto and he will speak on British-Israelism. Doors open at 7.30 p.m. as these meetings begin right on time. A collection will be taken to defray expenses of hiring the hall. Everyone will be welcome.

We are very sorry to report Mrs. Harry Silbey had a relapse and was taken to York County hospital after a severe heart attack. She has to be kept very quiet for six weeks. At present, no visitors are allowed. A bouquet of flowers from the church service were sent to her on Monday, the rest going to Mr. Bob Rose who is still in Sunnybrook Hospital.

We are happy to know Master Brian Beatty is recovering nicely from his recent operation. The Christ Church Ladies Guild meeting which was to be held on Tuesday, July 13, at the home of Mrs. E. Fry, Aurora Side Road, has been postponed until Tuesday, July 20. It will be held at the same place and time, at 2 p.m.

Service at Christ Church will be as usual on Sunday, July 18, at 9.45 a.m., D.S.T. Mrs. Ken Clawson and family are guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hunter.

Vets, Langstaff Trade Wins

By GEO HASKETT, JR.

The Vets are back in the hitting groove. The victim of their potent swinging Tuesday was Fred Morris and his visiting Langstaff softball squad 14-3 despite Bowen's 14 strike-outs. The Vets pounced on Bill Bowen's offerings for 14 hits and an equal number of runs. "Joint" McComb was touched for 12 hits. McComb, however, served up a fine brand of clutch hitting to set the invaders down with but three runs. Featuring the Vets offensive was a bunting barrage that kept the Langstaff infield on the jump all night long.

The Vets wasted no time in starting their victory parade. They unlimbered for nine runs in those first three frames, three in each. It was enough to put the game on ice. Mickey Smith in those initial chapters counted three runs on two hits and a walk to lead the way. Mickey, started in the outer pasture with a quartet of fine catches. Not content with their nine-run lead the Vets piled in for a single in the sixth. They added two more in the seventh due mainly to some hot foot base running by Harv. Gibney and Normie Legge. The Vets rolled up two more in the eighth for good measure.

Langstaff scrambled home with a lone marker in the second added one in the fifth and were shut off by "Joint" McComb with one in the eighth. Don Glover taking over in centre field in the seventh brought the fans up on their toes with a one handed stab of Bill Bowen's long drive.

Hart Girls Lose First After 4-Win Streak

Monday night the girls' softball team from Hart Manufacturing, lost their first baseball game to Stouffville by a score of 13-10 after winning four in a row. Their opposing teams have been Elgin Mills, Stouffville and Markham. Last Thursday and Friday the girls won two straight from Markham. In Aurora on Thursday night they defeated them 18-14 and travelled to Markham to defeat them 10-8.

The line-up for the last three games included: c. Lucille Case; p. Gwen Myke and Pearl Mackay; 1b. Venetta Maaten; 2b. Jolyne Doolittle; 3b. Marg. Saigle; ss. Marjorie Pattenden; and Lillian Lopatriello, Mary Humphries, Lillian Rose, Florence Bell and Beth Wood alternating in the out field.

News 'n' Views

By George Haskett

Lacrosse: Our boxla buddies aren't setting the world on fire, however, they are rating a lot of favorable comment from the lacrosse-wise around the Intermediate B circuit who say "stick with it lads, hold your present squad, add a couple of experienced workmen and 1949 will be different." At Orangeville, where over 200 fans turned out, "our gang" went down 13-3. Harold Gwyn, hard working head man, is hoping for a good turn out at the next home game, July 22, against Maple. The team appears to have the coaching well in hand with Jack Tweedie, a Toronto lad, now at the helm. He knows his stuff and the team is showing improvement.

Midget hardball: The holiday season played hob with the work of our lone baseball representative, the Lions Midgets. Manager Bill Haskett will send his flock back into action Friday night at Pantry Park. The time is fast approaching when play-off activity will be the order of the day. Aurora will provide the loyal opposition Friday.

North Yonge softball. Play-off time may seem a long way off in the North Yonge League but things are reaching the boiling stage. Last Thursday at Langstaff and in a recent Aurora tilt, the players turned to more than softball as the tempers went up with the weather. When the full story reaches the league headquarters, it's likely disciplinary action will be on the cards.

Something new here: Jack McDonald, recently elected to head the Hoffman Company sports committee, has issued a challenge to the Davis Leather horse-shoe tossers. You can bet Harry Doonan and his aides at the tannery aren't going to let him get away with it. Doonan

By GEORGE HASKETT JR.

It was just too much Bill Bowen when the Vets put in an appearance last Thursday at Langstaff. Langstaff's ace fire baller must have been celebrating his birthday, for as well as tossing a "super-special" game he went out and won his own game with two home runs, first with two mates abroad. The Vets would have been satisfied to let things stop there. But no, Mr. Bowen promptly teed off for his second circuit clout with three maties on the base-paths. A seven-run production, no less, which must be some sort of a record. With all this heavy slugging, the Vets went down to defeat 13-3.

The fans got their money's worth, in fact, more than they bargained for as the game ended up in a display of fistcuffs. It seems when the Vets and Langstaff get to settling things on the Yonge St. diamond, something like this has to come up. "Joint" McComb, tagged with the loss, worked on the hilltop for the Vets. Over the nine innings, McComb recorded 13 strike-outs. If they didn't go down swinging the Yonge St. lads seemed to hit safely as 11 hits fell to their bats. The Vets got eight. Fred Dillman showing the way with a three-hit display. Fred turned in one of his best games of the season making a super-dooper one-hand catch in the seventh to retire Art Crean.

The Vets' runs came in singles, one in the second, one in the third and a final marker in the ninth. Langstaff bunched all their scoring into three big frames, the first and third when five runs crossed in each, and polished it off with three in the seventh.
